MORNING SESSION

The House convened at the usual hour and was opened with prayer by Rev P S Knight of Salem. At the calling of the roll Messrs Clow, Johnson Stephenson, Simpson and Walden were absent

The journal was read and the House proceeded to business

Mr Cranor submitted the report of the committee to investigate State officers and moved that printed copies be distributed among the members

Mr Patton objected He thought that a distribution of this report would be virtually equivalent to the House receiving it The report, in his opinion was an electioneering document; that it was printed without authority and so far as he was concerned he was unwilling to pay a cent therefor

Mr Cranor thought the remarks of Mr Patton severe. Any report, he thought ought to be presented to the public when it concerned the public finances

Mr Simpson agreed with Mr Patton He had tried a number of times and was always refused a copy of said report, although they were distributed in certain directions

Mr Caples was more fortunate, or unfortunate, he didn't know which He had procured a copy of the report, and stated that before the question was through with the reports would be cheap as comic almanacs. It was an electioneering scheme to blacken the character of officers whose integrity had never been doubted.

Mr Burbank moved to table the whole matter

The ayes and noes were called for with the following result ayes 31, noes 16 So the matter was laid on the table.

Leave of absence was granted to Mr Allen for the day

The committee to prepare rules for the government of both houses recommended the adoption of the rules of the last session

Mr Burbank's bill was passed to second reading. The bills of Messrs Cough, Langell, Biles and Caples were also referred to second reading

Mr Simpson stated his bill to be a lengthy one (bill to regulate practice of medicine) and moved to suspend the rules and read the bill by title

Mr Cranor objected The bill might be of such a nature that the House would reject it on first reading

Mr Simpson said that he desired this suspension of the rules merely to avoid loss of time in reading so long a document

The ayes and noes were called, as follows ayes 34 noes 13 So the motion prevailed, and the bill passed to its second reading The bill provides for procuring subjects for anatomy and suits regarding malpractice

Notices of the introduction of bills were given by Messrs Patton Eagle Cooper and Andrews

Mr Caples in introducing a bill to relieve Judge McArthur of holding circuit court in the county of Grant during the October term stated that the great number of cases before the Supreme Court rendered it necessary that that body should continue in session during that month or there would be a number of important cases obliged to lay over two years, whereas there were but few cases on the docket in Grant county and they were not of an important nature By the unanimous consent of the House the rules were suspended and the bill read a second and third time The bill then passed the House without a dissenting vote and the bill became a law

Mr Caples bill for prevention of cruelty to animals was read and referred to second reading Mr Caples then, with the permission of the House, introduced a bill providing for the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad, which was read by title

Mr Simpson moved a suspension of the rules to allow the bill to pass to second reading The motion was carried 45 voting therefor and 1 (Mr Mason) against

Mr Matlock applied for indefinite leave of absence he having been summoned home on account of sickness in his family Granted

The house then adjourned till 9 o clock on the following day omitting the afternoon session in order to visit the Penitentiary

The Power of Interest

HOW A MAN MAY BECOME RICH ON SMALL BEGINNINGS

The gradually increasing rate of interest should make people wary of borrowing money for speculative purposes and especially of hiring it for the purchase of unproductive property or in the expectation of obtaining permanently high rents It is the high rate of interest which every few years causes a general breaking up of business when property and products fall in prices This also it is which causes wealth gradually but steadily to concentrate into the hands of comparatively a few persons in the community Take any series of ten twenty, or thirty years, or more and the longer the series the more positive and conclusive becomes the fact and it will be seen that the most profitable business in all the world is the lending of money The high rate of money high rents and high taxes must in the course of a few years tend to such a concentration of wealth as cannot fail to be injurious to society and will ultimately so straiten the debtor classes as to necessitate to a very great extent the process of wiping out old accounts and beginning anew A few examples will be sufficient to illustrate the great power of interest

A man buys a house for which he pays ten thousand dollars He leases it and charges the tenant seven per cent upon its cost clear of insurance, taxes and repairs The rent is payable quarterly A rate of interest of seven per cent per annum paid quarterly will accumulate a sum equal to the principal loaned or invested in property in ten years In the first period of ten years therefore his rents build him another as costly a house as the first In twenty years his rents build him three such houses in thirty years seven houses in forty years fifteen houses in fifty years, thirty-one houses in sixty years sixty three houses and in seventy years one hundred and twenty-seven houses In seventy years all these are built from the accumulated rents of one house These houses are worth $1,270 000 which sum has been paid for seventy years rent of one house worth $10 000 If instead of being invested in the house and lot, the $10 000 were loaned on interest at seven per cent, and the interest collected and reloaned quarterly the money would accumulate precisely the same amount as the property

Take another illustration of the power of interest Two mechanics just come of age, are good workmen and desire of riches Each is able to earn a dollar a day over and above his expenses Every six months they invest the money thus earned at seven per cent. interest, the interest payable half yearly These men earn an average of a dollar a day besides their expenses 300 days in each year during forty years and four months Each earns by labor $300 per year for forty years or for the whole period $12,120—together, 24 200 But the interest on their returns, loaned half yearly, for a period of forty years and four months doubling at seven per cent paid and reinvested half yearly, in ten years and four months amounts to $104,550 70, which, added to the amount of $24,200 earned by their labor, makes the aggregate $128,750 70. The interest on the sum, 24,200, earned by their labor is $104,550 70—more than four and a quarter times greater than the amount they had earned by their labor

Suppose the two men to live twenty years and two months longer—that is to the age of 81 years and 6 months—and continue to loan their money During this period it would double twice, making the total accumulation in sixty years and six months $515,002 80. The two men do not labor during the last twenty years and two months, and expend of their income for living during that period $15,002 80, leaving to their heirs $500,000 In forty years and four months they earn by their labor $24,200, and live twenty years and two months on their money without labor. Subtract the money earned by labor, $24,200, and the remainder accumulated by interest, is $475,800. Now, not one dollar of this $475,800 is earned by the labor of these men. It is the legal interest upon $24 200. These men live laboriously, and work for a very moderate compensation They take only the legal rate of interest Neither do they enter into any speculations

The amount to which nations, municipalities and corporations, as well as individuals, are indebted, is a subject of general complaint We see here the cause It is the accumulation of interest It is an accumulation of interest from which either no adequate equivalent is obtained, or else it is lost by unwise management There is due to the estate of these two men, from the small savings of a dollar a day, a sum of $500,000. It would take the labor of a single man for more than 1,666 years to pay this principal, and it would require, at one dollar per day, the constant toil of more than 116 men to pay the yearly interest of $35,000. From generation to generation these men might continue to pay the interest, and still the burden be undiminished and yet, in the short space of sixty years and six months, two men, from the small savings of a dollar a day, aided by the power of interest, have accumulated this amount.—Boston Traveller

NOTICE

[illegible] HENRY L PITTOCK.

Political Complexion of the United States Senate

At the opening of its last session the Senate of the United States was composed of seventy four members fifty six Republicans and eighteen Democrats Since that time the desertion of Sumner Trumbull Schurz Fenton and Tipton left the classification less certain It may be said that until the 4th of March next the relative party strength that can be counted upon with any degree of certainty, will be Republicans 51 Democrats 18 Seceders 5 These Seceders cannot be relied upon by either the Republicans or the Democrats upon party questions Their influence may be expected to be thrown into that side of the balance in each particular case where they may suppose it will be most likely to promote their own purposes regardless of party considerations with some degree of partiality probably for the Democrats

On the 4th of March the terms of twenty four Senators will expire Nineteen of these are Republicans four are Democrats and one Mr Trumbull is a Seceder The successors of some of these have already been elected Sherman of Ohio and Ferry, of Connecticut, will be their own successors Patterson of New Hampshire will be succeeded by Mr Wadleigh a Republican, and A A Sargent will take the place of Cole, of California Senator Harlan will give place to Allison Republican formerly a member of Congress Both Davis of Kentucky and Vickers of Maryland are succeeded by Democrats

Thus far there is neither gain nor loss of relative party strength In three other States, namely, Oregon, Vermont and North Carolina, the Legislatures to choose the successors of the retiring Senators have already been elected. Mr Corbett himself, or some other Republican, will take the place he occupies The successor of Pool, of North Carolina will be a Democrat, and the place of Morrill of Vermont, will be filled by a Republican—most probably himself

The recent successes of the Republicans in the Atlantic States have rendered it possible to calculate somewhat definitely the probabilities in some of the States whose elections are yet to be held Indiana will return a Republican, Illinois will do the same dispensing with Mr Trumbull s services Pennsylvania and New York will elect Republicans to succeed Cameron and Conkling Wisconsin Kansas and Nevada will still be represented by Republicans

The remaining States in which Senators are to be chosen are South Carolina Georgia Florida, Alabama Louisiana Arkansas and Missouri The outgoing Senators for all these States, except Georgia and Missouri are Republicans Local dissensions in the party in most of them make it uncertain what will be the result of the State elections

That the Republicans will lose a Senator from North Carolina and gain one from Illinois is reasonably certain and it is not impossible that we may gain one from Georgia

Who Broke up the Caucus of 1866!

In the Statesman of yesterday appears a very bitter article which is full of groundless charges and unjust insinuations against Senator Corbett. The gravamen of the Statesman s complaint is contained in the following extracts

"The facts in relation to the caucus of 1866 were that the Republican members, as a matter of course, and without a question as to its being a party usage, went into caucus They there nominated Mr Gibbs Mr Mitchell gave it up, and so far as he could control men induced them to go for Gibbs There were however enough men who refused to vote for Gibbs, to defeat his election, and those men immediately put forward Mr Corbett It is believed (and subsequent events have strengthened the belief into conviction) that Mr Corbett held those members back that he persuaded them to persist in their "bolt," and that he more than any other man, was instrumental in defeating the will of the Republican party that year * * * * * If there was demoralization of the party as the result of Mr Gibbs' defeat, (and we know there was,) Mr Corbett was more directly responsible for it than any man now living. Nobody then had any doubt, and nobody yet doubts but that he could have elected Mr Gibbs with a single word He chose not to do it —because he wanted to be himself elected

These charges call for the publication of a bit of political history, which might as well be allowed to pass into oblivion but for the fact that the above and similar charges against Mr. Corbett are made freely by Mr Mitchell s organ in nearly every issue, and, presumably at least, with his consent and approval We take no pleasure in recalling the facts in connection with the disastrous caucus of 1866 which well nigh wrecked the Republican party, we have therefore refrained hitherto from mentioning any circumstances connected therewith, except such as were at the time well known to the entire public We now propose to present some additional facts which to our mind, not only demonstrate] pretty conclusively that Mr Corbett did not have any thing to do with breaking up that caucus or causing the defeat of its nominee but which warrant the conclusion that that transaction was the work of the candidate in whose interest the clamor for a caucus is now being made

Mr Mitchell got control of the Portland primaries—it was said by the most unscrupulous means—and secured the nomination to the Legislature of men of his own selection who were of course anxious for his election as Senator When the Legislature met Gibbs and Mitchell were the candidates of the Republicans They went into caucus and Gibbs received the nomination Mitchell receiving every vote from Multnomah county Gibbs was undoubtedly the choice of four fifths of the Republicans of the State In joint convention some four members—all supporters of Mr Mitchell—refused to abide by the nomination, that is, bolted Of these four two were members selected and elected by Mr Mitchell from Multnomah county After this bolt Mr Gibbs still had within two votes of [illegible] Some days having been spent in trying to effect an understanding and elect Mr Gibbs his friends thought they had reason to suspect that Mr Mitchell was holding back the Multnomah bolters from the support of Gibbs and determined if possible to ascertain whether or not such was the truth Accordingly they arranged with two Democratic members to vote for Mr Gibbs the Democrats reserving, however the understanding that they should change their votes away from Gibbs if he received enough with theirs to elect him When the next ballot was taken the two Democrats voted for Mr Gibbs—and he would then have received enough votes to elect [illegible]ers But upon that ballot Hon W W Upton whose name came near the end of the roll and who was also one of the Multnomah members selected by Mr Mitchell and had been his ardent supporter in the caucus and leader in the H[illegible] Gibbs [illegible] Comment is unnecessary It may not be out of place to say however that we are informed Mr [illegible] is now joining in the demand for a caucus

If we do Mr Mitchell injustice in our inference that it was he who broke up the caucus by [illegible] a bolt in 1866 we are sorry for it but we have given are sure [illegible] of proof and we think the inference is one which every rational man would adopt

We might add that the statement so often repeated in the Statesman that Mr Corbett was nominated in a caucus is incorrect When the effort to unite on Gibbs was given up as hopeless there was circulated for the signatures of Republican members an agreement to support Mr Corbett as a compromise, which without a caucus was signed by all, or a sufficient number to elect and then without caucus the members went into the joint Convention and elected him according to agreement

Col Dudley Secretary of the Veterans National Committee in answer to the invitation extended to General Grant to be present at the Veterans Grand Mass Convention held at Pittsburg received the following manly letter

LONG BRANCH Sept 5

DEAR SIR I am in receipt of your letter of the 4th inst extending to me by your committee, a pressing invitation to attend the Grand Mass Convention of Veteran Soldiers to be held in the city of Pittsburg on the 17th inst My desire to attend and meet again so many old companions in arms is very great but my judgment tells me to leave the celebration entirely to those whose motives cannot be misunderstood I know no class of citizens better entitled to meet in convention and to have weight accorded to their views than the veteran soldiers who risked their lives for the honor and perpetuity of their country I am sure your councils will be marked by wisdom and patriotism and that meeting of so many comrades will be a joyous and advantageous one I wish for you all that you expect from your meeting and only regret I cannot be with you on that occasion

With great respect,
Your obedient servant,
U S GRANT

An exchange says the preparation for the contest in Nevada for the United States Senatorship is carried on in a way that cannot but result in demoralization to the Republican party It is stated the whole power and influence of the Central Pacific Railway Company and of two or three other gigantic corporations, is employed to overawe those who cannot be induced by other means known to such men as conduct the contest, to support a man whom the party at large does not want, and whose chief qualification for the position of United States Senator is, that he will be serviceable to the corporation ring No worse calamity can befall a political party than that of passing into the control of rings and factions, or suffering itself to be controlled by corporations The campaign of 1868, in California is at once an illustration and a warning

The New Diamond Discovery

The New York Journal of Commerce in an article on the Arizona diamond mines expresses a doubt whether these gems are not water sapphires instead of diamonds The writer states that water sapphires have been found in Montana and New Mexico and thinks therefore these are most likely to be the same variety of stones The Journal says

What are called white or water sapphires very much resemble the diamond, being brilliant, colorless, and in hardness next to the diamond, for which they are often mistaken by inexpert judges Diamonds are nearly pure carbon, while sapphires are nearly pure alumina Another form of carbon, as is well known, is charcoal, another form of alumina is clay so that while without any great impropriety diamonds may be said to be crystalized coal, sapphires may be said to be crystalized clay Diamonds, have never been made to crystalize artificially sapphires have though the crystals were so small as to be valueless for ornamental purposes White or colorless have not been very common, the gem being more usually a beautiful blue, which is known as the sapphire color, the constituents of the two, however, are nearly identical, except the coloring matter to which the peculiar tint of the latter is due The same elements, also, except the coloring matter, are found in the ruby, the amethyst the topaz, and the emerald These as is well known are respectively red violet yellow and green varying however somewhat in the exact shade in different specimens ' Corundum is a name sometimes given to this material, being often used to include all varieties—the crystalized gems as well as the uncrystalized and opaque substance though it is often used as referring only to the latter Emery is perhaps the most common example of the common opaque corundum Its hardness like that [of] gems ranking very high, peculiarly fits it for the purposes for which it is commonly used

Though the alledged diamonds found in Arizona should prove to be 'White Sapphires they may still have high value as would also the various colored sapphires if they are pure or nearly so Oriental gems of these various colors are often held at very high prices, some times as high or even higher than the diamonds The books tell us of a ruby belonging to the collection of the Marquis of Dree selling for a thousand francs while a very fine diamond of the same weight sold for only eight hundred We are also told of two sapphires owned in London which are valued at £30 000

NEW ARMY UNIFORM —Uncle Sam has ordered his troops to don the new and improved uniform which is the result of the recommendations made by the board which lately sat in New York The more important changes are the following The double breasted frock coat heretofore assigned to officers above the rank of captain is now to be worn by officers of all ranks The undress sack coat is recognized as part of the regulation uniform The frock coat of the enlisted men gives place to a neatly fitting basque handsomely faced with the colors of the several arms on the breast and skirts and liberally ornamented with buttons The brass shoulder scale disappears in favor of a cloth shoulder strap For fatigue and other purposes a navy blue blouse, plaited on the breasts and gathered in a waist belt is provided in place of the present nondescript The trousers of all generals and their staff officers are to be dark blue and with trimmings of any kind Regimental officers are to wear light blue with wide welted stripes, the color of their respective arms of service General and staff officers are to wear the French chapeaux with ostrich plume on dress occasions mounted corps a black felt hamlet with gold trimmings and hair plumes and marching corps a dress cap with upright plume of cock feather—red for artillery and white for infantry Foot soldiers will wear [illegible] instead of plumes Mounted troops may wear genuine troopers top [illegible] and sashes and epaulets are abolished for all but general officers There [illegible] many minor changes all of which it is asserted will be for the better

The Seattle Inquirer of the 1[illegible] inst says Early on Sunday evening in the neighborhood of the Mail House an Indian called Cultus Jim was killed by another Indian called Black River Joe Several years ago Jim killed and burned two of Joe's [illegible] and revenge is supposed to be the only motive for Joe's killing him No notice of the affair has been taken by the legal authorities

FROM THE CAPITAL

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM September 16 1872

Richard s himself again The strife and turmoil the running to and fro the pulling up and repeating rumors, the mysterious shrugs and nods and winks the baited breath and all the plotting and scheming and counter plotting and counter scheming of the Senatorial fight is upon us again almost to the exclusion of all other topics

Last night a number of [illegible] met in a room at the Opera House resolved themselves a caucus of the party and agreed to meet and adjourn from time to time until they can press in enough to make it a legitimate caucus Whether this will be done is simply a question of that quality for which our late Governor was so highly renowned Another number of the Republican party met in another room and without resolving themselves into a caucus determined that they would neither be cajoled frightened persuaded nor whipped into anything of the kind It is understood that the same thing is to be repeated again to night

LEGISLATION

Despite the outside pressure our Representatives and Senators are vigorously at work tearing down building up changing remodeling repealing and amending all the laws of the Statute book as is the biennial custom They take as much pains to make laws as they think the law should be as though they did not know that everything must be changed again in 1874

A GAME LAW

In the Senate Dolph introduced a bill which is really a good one It provides that no one shall kill injure or offer for sale any deer during the months from February to July inclusive, nor moose nor elk from February to August under a penalty of $20 fine for the first offense and double for the second nor any of a long list of birds during the brooding seasons as therein named nor set traps, snares or nets for the birds at any time under penalty of $5 fine and double for the second offense The penalty for using traps, weirs, drugs charms or powders to kill or capture fish excepting in the Columbia, is $20 for the first offense, double for the second, treble for the third with imprisonment not to exceed 90 days For shooting game after night, $20 fine For killing shad or black or striped bass during a period of three years $5 apiece for each fish the first time and double that the second Justices of the Peace have jurisdiction for all cases, and one half the fines go to the informers, the other to the school fund If that don t stop the wanton murder of game, I miss my guess as badly as the man who guessed the moon might be six feet wide

VETO MESSAGES

The Senate yesterday received two veto messages from the Governor in relation to bills passed by the last Legislature —the first accompanying Senate Bill No 29 to drain swamp lands in Union county was sustained by a unanimous vote On the other vetoing S B No 77—the Portland Subsidy Bill—the question being shall the bill pass Cornelius voted aye and all others no In both cases His Excellency argues constitutional questions and evidently has the best of it

MILEAGE

It has been the practice for each member to compute his own mileage but a joint committee has been raised to attend to this duty and notify the Secretary of State what number of miles each is entitled to claim

THE HOUSE

was not idle in the mean time A host of bills have been introduced, among which I may specify one, by Burbank of Yamhill, to prevent frauds in elections, several to change the time of holding courts in different places, by Simpson of Benton to regulate the practice of medicine, Congle to repeal the Metropolitan Police bill, in which your readers will no doubt feel interested, and by Caples to prevent cruelty to animals Burbank s bill to repeal the Litigant Act passed a second reading and was referred to Committee on Judiciary and the Senate bill to relieve Judge McArthur from his October term of court was passed under a suspension of the rules

GOING TO THE PENITENTIARY

Both Houses accepted an invitation to visit Mr Watkinds' hotel on his assurance that he would let them all out again if they did not get too much mixed up to be distinguished from the other delegations The builders of this institution speak very highly of their work, but I can tell you better about that to morrow if I get out again this afternoon

THE WALDRONS

This troupe had a good house last night considering the intense excitement over the attempt at a caucus Their performance gave the highest satisfaction and justly so as it is undoubtedly the strongest company ever on the boards in Salem Their afterpiece was entirely new here and convulsed the whole house with laughter from beginning to end They are sure to have a successful season

LETTER FROM SALEM

SALEM Sept 17 1872

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Your correspondent has taken some trouble to ascertain the object and aim of a caucus to be held for the selection of a candidate for United States Senator

It will be remembered that a pretty little game was worked six years ago to defeat the then aspiring candidates the same man who has been so industriously circulating a paper during the past few days requesting a caucus, is the very man who was in favor of a caucus six years ago was in favor also of breaking up the caucus whoever might be nominated

The same desperate game is now being played midnight and secret conclaves are being held to defeat the will of the people

Once get the principal candidates before the caucus let their names be submitted and it is expected as heretofore that the strife and feeling will run so high that some of the members will refuse to [illegible] the decision of the caucus A caucus is only necessary to get up a feud If the [illegible] of Mr Holla[illegible] should not be nominated then the plan is to break up the caucus If he should be nominated then it will be said that it is just what the people want Of course it is not intended that this should be known outside the ring but I get it pretty straight [illegible] caucus system is such a nob [illegible] system where the free people express their will [illegible] horn Will the people allow their representatives to bargain and sell their rights for a mess of pottage and this in the midnight and dark lantern gatherings? Are these spirits few in number but powerful to work mischief to control the action of the free representatives sent here to act upon matters that shape the destinies of Oregon Do the people wish this or do the people wish to see their representatives vote for the man of their choice in open convention that they may approve or disapprove of their acts Every member knows the wishes of his constituents and the people wish to know whether considerations of a different character can induce them to disregard their wishes We shall see

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A SPECIAL COMMUNICATION —What should specially commend the Republican party to the confidence of all good men is the critical and independent spirit which has [illegible] in its own ranks What more independent and non partisan action could be desired than has been displayed by such Congressmen as Dawes and Bingham two of the ablest of the Republican leaders And these men with hundreds of others equally independent are to day working with all their might for the success of the Republican party The party whose success we advocate does not claim to be perfect In the future as in the past it promises to do its best —St Paul Press

THROWN OUT —While Mrs C P Bacon [illegible] companied by her daughter Hattie, was out [illegible] ing yesterday morning, the twain met wi[illegible] severe accident, by being thrown out of the [illegible] gy Mrs Bacon was driving at a rapid [illegible] down Washington street, when the occurr[illegible] took place Just as the horse reached First [illegible] a horse attached to a dray dashed past, going [illegible] The animal she was driving took fright [illegible] swerving to the left, started down First st[illegible] Mrs Bacon put forth every exertion to chec[illegible] speed of the now furious equine, but it be[illegible] more and more unmanageable every mo[illegible] When opposite the music store of Messrs G[illegible] Steel, the horse made several [illegible] which so unsettled the occupants, that all [illegible] trol over the horse was lost, and the fright[illegible] women, to prevent being dashed out, could d[illegible] little more than cling to the seat. The [illegible] dashed forward until Stark street was reac[illegible] when the animal turned suddenly up that st[illegible] But the impetus was too great to turn so [illegible] denly, and horse, carriage and occupants [illegible] carried beyond the sidewalk and dashed [illegible] against the side of the Gem Saloon As a n[illegible] ral consequence, the buggy was reduced [illegible] complete wreck, and the two ladies were h[illegible] headlong to the pavement Miss Hattie rece[illegible] a severe contusion on the side of the face [illegible] neck and Mrs. Bacon's face was scratched [illegible] bruised to a considerable extent Both [illegible] badly stunned for a few moments by the force [illegible] the fall A hack was called, and the mother [illegible] daughter were conveyed home Neither are [illegible] ously injured, and no fatal results are expecte[illegible] follow the accident The escape was very [illegible] row, and it is most fortunate that the conseque[illegible] were not more serious Accidents in a city [illegible] Portland are positively unavoidable under a[illegible] circumstances, but we venture to say that [illegible] caution on the part of drivers, and less sp[illegible] would greatly reduce the number of runa[illegible] casualties

HAULING OVER —Teams were engaged ye[illegible] day in transporting large quantities of rail[illegible] iron from the east side of the river The [illegible] posed street car track will be principally [illegible] structed of this iron Every ship load of rail [illegible] iron which has been brought to this port since [illegible] first rail was laid has been found to include [illegible] or less damaged material Such damaged [illegible] have been condemned and thrown [illegible] large number have accumulated The rail[illegible] [illegible] are invariably shal[illegible] and sp[illegible] end on the top side and are [illegible] or insufficient to sustain the ponderous weigh[illegible] a locomotive and train. These same rails, [illegible] used as a street car track, are turned upside d[illegible] and the round portion secured to the tie[illegible] wrought iron cleats Being held secure in [illegible] manner such damaged rails subserve the [illegible] purpose as if not condemned, and make a pe[illegible] nent and secure track for the street cars. W[illegible] derstand that Messrs Estes & Co have purch[illegible] all such damaged iron of the railroad comp[illegible] and that most if not all, the street car tracks [illegible] be laid with it The bargain is advantageou[illegible] both parties—the iron being unserviceable to [illegible] railroad company, but answering the purpose [illegible] which it will be applied as satisfactorily as if [illegible] the best rails were used

WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT 18 1872

CITY.

A FAIR WARNING.—The Street Commissioner informs us that from the present date he will serve no more notices on persons who shall throw rubbish of any kind on the sidewalks. Hereafter, those who violate the ordinance in this respect, will be proceeded against at once on the complaint of the Commissioner or Chief of Police. Section 5 of ordinance 1 16[illegible], says "No person shall throw into or deposit upon any public street, highway or grounds or upon any private premises, or anywhere except in such places as may be designated by the Street Commissioner any glass, metal, broken ware, dirt, rubbish, garbage or filth, and no person shall carry upon any side walk, exposed so as to be offensive to pedestrians any rubbish garbage or filth." The Street Commissioner desires to call particular attention to the word rubbish, which is meant to include among other things loose paper. This article scattered about on the side walks is calculated to annoy pedestrians, and render the appearance of the streets unsightly. Besides serious accidents can frequently trace their origin to this same article—loose paper. Borne about on the wind, under wagons and around horses' heads, it has often been the direct cause of disastrous runaways, involving the loss of property and jeopardizing life and limb. The practice of depositing loose paper and light articles wherever is most convenient, has so long been indulged in that it has become second-nature with some of our merchants and shop keepers. The Commissioner has judiciously determined that the habit can no longer be continued with impunity. Instead of throwing paper on the side walk, and thus rendering liable whoever may violate the plain law it can easily be gathered up, thrown into a box and carried away by the scavenger, or else burned up. Persons will find hereafter that the "safest way is the best." The Commissioner can not serve personal notice on every one at the same time, or to the same person whenever he may choose to violate the law. That officer proposes to give a fair warning to the public, and prefer charges against all persons without discrimination, who may violate the ordinance in the future.

THROWN OUT.—While Mrs C P Bacon accompanied by her daughter Hattie, was out driving yesterday morning, the twain met with a severe accident, by being thrown out of the buggy. Mrs. Bacon was driving at a rapid gait down Washington street, when the occurrence took place. Just as the horse reached First street, a horse attached to a dray dashed past, going up. The animal she was driving took fright and swerving to the left, started down First street. Mrs. Bacon put forth every exertion to check the speed of the now furious equine, but it became more and more unmanageable every moment. [illegible]—opposite the music store of Messrs. Gill & Steel, the horse made several tremendous leaps, which so unsettled the occupants, that all control over the horse was lost, and the frightened [illegible], to prevent being dashed out, could do but little more than cling to the seat. The horse [illegible] forward until Stark street was reached, when the animal turned suddenly up that street. But the impetus was too great to turn so suddenly, and horse, carriage and occupants were carried beyond the sidewalk and dashed up against the side of the Gem Saloon. As a natural consequence, the buggy was reduced to a complete wreck, and the two ladies were hurled headlong to the pavement. Miss Hattie received a severe contusion on the side of the face and neck and Mrs. Bacon's face was scratched and bruised to a considerable extent. Both were badly stunned for a few moments by the force of the fall. A hack was called, and the mother and daughter were conveyed home. Neither are seriously injured, and no fatal results are expected to follow the accident. The escape was very narrow, and it is most fortunate that the consequences were not more serious. Accidents in a city like Portland are positively unavoidable under some circumstances, but we venture to say that more [illegible] on the part of drivers, and less speed, would greatly reduce the number of runaway [illegible].

HAULING OVER.—Teams were engaged yesterday in transporting large quantities of railroad iron from the east side of the river. The proposed street car track will be principally con[illegible] of this iron. Every ship load of railroad iron which has been brought to this port since the [illegible] was laid has been found to include more [illegible]aged material. Such damaged rails [illegible] condemned and thrown aside, until a [illegible] number have accumulated. The rails so [illegible] are invariably shattered and split [illegible] the top side, and are deemed unsafe [illegible] to sustain the ponderous weight of [illegible]ive and train. These same rails, when [illegible] in a street car track, are turned upside down and the round portion secured to the ties by iron cleats. Being held secure in this [illegible] such damaged rails subserve the same [illegible] as if not condemned, and make a permanent track for the street cars. We un[illegible] that Messrs Estes & Co have purchased [illegible]aged iron of the railroad company, and that most, if not all, the street car tracks will be laid with it. The bargain is advantageous to both parties—the iron being unserviceable to the [illegible] company, but answering the purposes to which it will be applied as satisfactorily as if only the best rails were used.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—Pursuant to the call, a meeting of the members of the State Central Committee will be held at Salem on the 19th inst. (to-morrow) at 2 o'clock P M. The following are the members of the Committee appointed [illegible]ing at the State Convention: Multnomah, A.M. Parrish, Chairman of the Committee; Jackson, C. W Savage; Coos, D L Watson; Douglas, B. W Sterns; Lane, W W Bristow; Benton, E. W. Wilson; Linn, D W Ballard; Marion, B. Knight; Polk, R H Tyson; Yamhill, [illegible] Burbank; Tillamook, William Stillwell; [illegible]as, D. P Thompson; Columbia, J L [illegible]; Clatsop, R R Spedden; Washington, [illegible] Merryman; Wasco, R W Crandall; [illegible], J. W. Church; Umatilla, George Osgood; [illegible], M. Baker; Baker, Windham Bruner; [illegible], M. Riley; Josephine, Alexander Watts. [illegible]ance is especially desired.

PROTECTION No 4.—We learn that Protection [illegible] Co. No. 4, are agitating the question of [illegible] the State Fair, and to take along their [illegible]. The membership is strong and the company would make a handsome display on the [illegible] in full uniform, with the assistance of [illegible] splendid steamer which is one among the [illegible] on the coast. Should the company conclude [illegible] no unfavorable inferences could be drawn [illegible] of Portland firemen, by those who [illegible] attend this great annual ingathering from [illegible] of the State.

[illegible] CAR TRACK.—The track for the street [illegible] in this city has been completed between [illegible] on First street, and the ties for the [illegible] of the next block have been laid. The [illegible] will be placed down to day and the space [illegible] the rails planked. The cars are expected [illegible] in the course of a few weeks. In a [illegible] the track will be laid to the southern [illegible] of First street, and the cars will be ready [illegible]. As soon as the level portion of the street [illegible], track laying will progress at the rate [illegible] block a day.

[illegible] RAISED.—The frame of the new Tem[illegible] Hall, at the corner of Alder and Third [illegible], has been raised. Within two weeks the [illegible] will be finished and the frame inclosed. The [illegible] will be ready for occupancy by the first [illegible]. This edifice will be when com[illegible] a handsome two story structure. It will [illegible] the appearance of that portion of the [illegible], [illegible] an agreeable contrast with the [illegible] bawdy-houses and rookeries that cover [illegible] of the block.

ON FIRE.—Bridge No 9 on the Oregon Central Railroad, was on fire several times during [illegible] evening. A number of men with cover[illegible] water cars were kept near by most of the night, and extinguished the fire several times. The fire was communicated from the woods which were in flames in the vicinity of the bridge. No [illegible] damage resulted to the structure.

SEED POTATOES.—Mr George Burchard Jr of [illegible], W T, has sent us a lot of the "[illegible]" seedling potato. They were dug on the 10th of September, and stand the [illegible] while the old kinds, says the sender do not. They are as fine looking "spuds" as we would care to look at.

TOWED UP.—The bark Garibaldi was towed up yesterday morning by the steamer [illegible] from the lower saw mill to the wharf of Messrs. Moffett & Stephens. The lumber portion of her cargo has been completed. The Garibaldi is announced to sail for Hongkong on the 2d of next month.

HAY.—Great quantities of hay are being [illegible] to this city on the Vancouver. Wagons from the country are arriving in great numbers loaded with the article.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—A man named Lovell, residing in Milwaukie, attempted to commit suicide a few days since by shooting himself. Timely interference by a Mr John Holland prevented fatal consequences. The wound is not mortal. The above information we obtained from a brief note from that place which did not give further particulars. We are left to conjecture as to the precise character of the wound and the motives which impelled Lovell to the rash deed.

CHIN MUSIC.—The residents of the upper portion of the city complain of a gang of strolling warblers who make night hideous with their choral brayings. Sleep is impossible while they have their chin music in motion. The police should suppress those yelpers.

EMIGRANTS.—Two families of emigrants from up the valley took passage on the steamer [illegible] yesterday. They propose to take up a permanent residence in some portion of Washington Territory.

CLEARING AWAY.—The debris of the building destroyed by fire which formerly stood on Second street, between Taylor and Yamhill, is being removed. A new building will soon be erected on the site.

THE LAST INSTALLMENT.—We publish this morning the last installment of the report of the Committee on Water Supply. The report is a very exhaustive document, covering every branch of the subject.

CANNOT BE EXCELLED.—There has been a decided change in personnel of the photographic establishment of Joseph Buchtel, by the presence of Mr E. H Stolte as a partner with Mr Buchtel. Mr Carl Bosco the famous artist continues to transfer physiognomies to plate in a manner that meets with general approval. Messrs Buchtel & Stolte have on exhibition daily at the entrance to the Gallery Corbett's Building, First street, between Washington and Alder the finest display of work in their particular line ever produced in the State and in the East it would be difficult to find anything to excel it. The firm and those connected with it need no words of praise. The work they produce is the best endorsement any gallery could have.

Greeley's Claim on the Democracy

There are many reasons why the Democrats should support Greeley. Among them are the following, which may sound a little sarcastic and in fact are regarded as so by some.

First—Because during the long contest waged between the Democracy and Whiggery he was the inveterate foe of the Democracy.

Second. Because he was a United States bank man whilst the Democracy was opposed to it.

Third. Because he was always in favor of a high protective tariff whilst the Democracy ever opposed it.

Fourth—Because he was always in favor of the distribution of the proceeds of the public lands among the States whilst the Democracy opposed it.

Fifth—Because he was in favor of abrogating the veto power whilst the Democracy opposed it.

Sixth—Because he denounced John Tyler whilst the Democracy opposed it.

Seventh. Because he violently opposed the annexation of Texas, whilst the Democrats favored it.

Eighth—Because he favored the Wilmot Proviso, whilst the Democracy was opposed to it.

Ninth—Because he was against his country in the Mexican war, whilst the Democrats were for it.

Tenth—Because he opposed the fugitive slave law, whilst the Democrats sustained it.

Eleventh—Because he was one of the most violent and abusive of all the opponents of the Democracy during the Kansas struggle.

Twelfth—Because with the power his press gave him in the North he did all in his power to stir up sectional feeling on the part of the North against the South.

Thirteenth—Because, when the war came he said, "let the erring sister go in peace" and afterwards demanded the severest measures towards the people of the South.

Fourteenth—Because he favored all of the most ultra measures against the South, whilst the Democracy opposed them.

Fifteenth—Because he favored the adoption of all the constitutional amendments for the benefit of the black man, while the Democracy opposed them.

Sixteenth—Because he demanded the Ku Klux law, whilst the Democrats were opposed to it.

Seventeen—Because he has ever denounced the Democratic party as being composed of the worst classes of society viz the gamblers, thieves, shoulder hitters, plugughes the the denizens of the lowest slums and sloughs, the uneducated, roughest and worst classes of society.

Eighteenth—Because, in a word, he has ever opposed every thing that the Democracy favored.

Nineteenth—Because a man who will consent to serve a party he has ever denounced must be a dishonest man, who will betray his dupes, the Democracy.

Twentieth—Because he runs as the Democratic candidate, never having taken back one word he ever has said against the Democracy.

Disease Results
From the system that has been invigorated and regulated by a course of that most beneficent of all vegetable elixirs, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Such, at least, is the inference we are compelled to draw from the testimony of thousands of persons residing in unhealthy districts, who attribute their escape from the epidemic and other complaints which prevail there in the spring and autumn, solely to the use of this great protective and preventive medicine. Many western and southern farmers and planters as invariably as they plant and sow in the spring and reap and gather in the fall administer it at those seasons to their families and employees and take it themselves from twice to three times a day. The demand for it in the fever and ague districts bordering on the Mississippi Ohio and Arkansas rivers is immense and wherever the malarial [illegible] are such as to generate intermittent or remittent fevers it is held in the highest esteem both as an antidote to the atmospheric virus which provokes them and as a swift and certain remedy for those distressing forms of disease. It is also unnecessary to say that this renowned tonic and renovator is now generally accepted as a standard specific for indigestion, biliousness, nervous debility, rheumatism, physical weakness and mental despondency not only by the public at large but by all unprejudiced medical men. The vast popularity of the Bitters has of course led to many counterfeits and imitations against which the community are requested to be on their guard.

THE WATER SUPPLY QUESTION

(CONCLUDED)

The following is the remainder of the report o Wm. E Morris on the Water Supply, and also the results of the analysis of five different samples o water by Dr J H Bill

Estimated Cost of Works the Size of the Present.

MACHINERY

In case the city purchased the present Works and enlarged them the two engines now in [illegible] would be used for the upper [illegible] and one built for the lower [illegible] The [illegible] would [illegible] perform only the duty assigned [illegible] the capacity estimated for in the foregoing [illegible] and would only be of the value of that [illegible] the city

Say cost of [illegible] gallon engine	39
One-third of buildings wharf [illegible] etc	0
	$ 8 0

If built separately from the other engine and charged with the whole cost [illegible] buildings, etc as table for the [illegible] engine the cost would	$35 000
Sixth Street Reservoir about the same as the larger reservoir in body of report	$31 600
Fourth Street Reservoir same as small reservoir in report	14 5
Two reservoirs	$ 4 200
	$ 4 350

(It is to be remarked here that in the present Works the upper reservoir is the larger one of the two while in my plan the lower reservoir is the larger because the lower reservoir requires three times as much water as the upper reservoir)

Amount brought forward	$ 4 350

PIPE LAID

12-inch, on trestle work wrought iron 1 400 feet at $5 00	$ 7 000
7½ inch wrought iron 10 400 ft at $1 50†	15 600
6-inch cast, 19,090 feet at $2 25	42 952
4 inch cast, 26 720 feet at $1 50	40 080
3-and 2-inch cast, 1,640 feet at $1	1 640
	$107 22

*Taken at one half the price of 8 inch cast iron

†Taken at same price as cast

STOP COCKS—(PHILADELPHIA PATTERN)

12-inch—two at $150	$ 300
8-inch—eight at $100	800
6-inch—three at $ 5	225
4 inch—fifteen at $65	5
	$ 2 300
Connections at reservoirs	1 000
Water metres	9 0
Branches	500
Dams at head of pipe on Balch Creek and Caruthers' Creek	600
(Cisterns and fire-plugs are omitted)
Engineering superintendence and contingencies 5 per cent say	9 062
	$190 00
Less premium on gold on amount of estimated Eastern purchases at 11 per cent say	000
	$189 000

This is the amount which I value the present works to be worth to the city, in view of their intending to enlarge the same, and to use the water of Balch and Caruthers' Creeks in winter

The valuation does not include any real estate and is made also upon the supposition that the pipes are in good condition, and the wrought iron effectually protected from rust It is also made on the supposition that the river is used, the present machinery being at too low a level to be used if Stephens' Springs are adopted In the latter event the value to the city would be reduced to $160 000

HOLLY SYSTEM IN PRACTICAL OPERATION

At request of your Secretary, Mr Schuyler I made a personal examination of the practical working of this machinery and, for this purpose visited the Water Works at Columbus Ohio Covington Kentucky, and Peoria, Illinois which are all built upon the Holly system saw them in operation at each place and conferred with the officers having charge of them, and with other citizens in regard to them

At the two places first named there is a single system of service, and not a high one, the usual pressure on the pump indicator being about 50 pounds per square inch At Peoria there is a double service, a portion of the city being located upon a bluff some 200 feet high

At each of these places, the people are well satisfied with the Works At Peoria there had been much opposition to the adoption of the Holly plan, but, after trial for 2½ years, it has the approval and confidence of the people generally, including most of its former opponents

At each of these places the use of fire engines has been superseded by hose companies and the street hydrants. At all these places two steam cylinders, connected to the same shaft, formed the chief motive power, which was transmitted through complicated cog gearing to the pumps At Columbus and at Covington, and for upper service at Peoria, single acting pumps were used for the regular supply, and rotary pumps for fire purposes all driven by the two cylinder engine But, for the lower service at Peoria, rotary pumps, driven by the cylinder engines, were used for the daily supply, a greater velocity being given to them at time of fire There was a rotary engine at each place, as reserved power. There was a general dissatisfaction with the rotary engine, on account of its "using up steam so fast," which is a great disadvantage, as more steam is needed at times of fire than at other times There were complaints, also, about deficiency of boiler power and, at Columbus and at Covington, a new and larger boiler had been built.

The President of the Covington Water Works informed me that they intended to procure another set of machinery, "for the reason that, should anything happen to our machinery we should be out of water, and no machinery will run forever without repairs "

In the last report of the Trustees of the Columbus Water Works they say that, "to guard against possibilities and insure an abundance of reliable power for future use, a comparatively short time will elapse ere it will be absolutely necessary to duplicate the pumping machinery "

Pressure valves and water alarms do not work satisfactorily and are not used The pressure is regulated by the attention of the engineer and by its own retarding force upon the engine, if increasing And a fire alarm telegraph is substituted for the water alarm, it (the latter) having frequently given false alarms

The following table shows the cost of these works, miles of pipe laid, and daily quantity of water pumped and some other details in the three following cities—1st Columbus Ohio 2d Covington, Kentucky 3d, Peoria, Illinois

TABLE SHOWING COST AND SIZE OF WATER WORKS ETC

Cost of Works	Miles of Pipes	Largest Main	Water used per day gal	No Hydrants	No Stops
$425,000	23¾ cast and 3¼ wr't iron 1	20 in	600 000	155	113
360 000	14 miles	20 in	500 000	160	30
450 000	25¾	16 in	2,500 000	200	103

The experience of these and other cities proves the efficiency of the Holly system as a fire protection They have not been long enough in operation to test the durability of the machinery but the opinions expressed above show that those using the machinery recognize the necessity of soon providing duplicates The Holly machinery is, no doubt, more liable to accident and more expensive to maintain than the more simple kinds of pumping engines

CONCLUSIONS

In regard to my own views as to the proper source to which your city should resort for water I have to say that the Gravity plan is excluded by reason of its great cost

If it is practicable to obtain Stephens Springs it would no doubt, prove more generally acceptable to your citizens than the river water Their waters are entirely unobjectionable their purity cannot be affected by dense population and increasing manufactures The city would in these respects, avoid much future annoyance, trouble and perhaps expense If properly brought to the city and delivered to consumers, their excellent quality and coolness would command universal use and for domestic purposes it would probably justify a price sufficiently above what could be charged for the river water to cover the interest of its increased cost of delivery I therefore recommend the introduction of Stephens Springs If found impracticable or on account of financial considerations unadvisable to use Stephens Springs then resort must be had to the river

The next question to be disposed of is that of the present Water works In regard to the propriety of their purchase by the city there are two considerations apparent in favor of the purchase viz the economy attendant upon the annual cost of operating for many years at least by the use in winter of Balch and Caruthers Creeks and a liberal course of action towards the present Company who in good faith have built the present works

I have estimated the annual cost of operating for the next few years taking the river water page VII at $12 500 per annum Something less than half this sum would be saved by use of Balch and Caruthers Creek in winter say $5 000 I have given on page XXXVI, my estimate of the value to the city of the present Works exclusive of real estate say $189 000 and the whole cost of the works is also given upon page XXX

It is to be borne in mind that the present pumping machinery is not applicable at its present location to pumping the water of Stephens Springs but only in case the river water is used These estimates give the basis for negotiations with the present Company

In case the city purchase the present Works I recommend that the reservoir system and the general plan heretofore pursued by the Water Company be continued, using Balch Creek and Caruthers Creek in the winter but discontinuing the use of Caruthers Creek earlier in the season and cutting off also Balch Creek from the reservoirs and continuing its use to the takers along the route of the pipe after about the 1st of May and then to supply the city from the river except along and near to the Balch Creek main If you do not decide to purchase the city works then the question of selection of plans is between a reservoir system and the direct pressure or Holly system Using either the river or Stephens Springs the water will be better without a reservoir than with one Their comparative costs are as follows as shown on page ?

	Reservoir	Springs	Willamette
Reservoir System		$ 66 50	$413
Holly System		1 85
Saving in first cost		44 000	$47 000
To this saving is to be added cost of ground for two reservoirs probably		$ 6 000	$2 00
Making total saving of		$ 000	$ 3 000

At the same time that the water is kept more pure and this saving of outlay is secured, you obtain a most efficient fire protection

In opposition to these advantages it is necessary to run the machinery constantly day and night and to maintain less durable machinery than in the more simple pumping works

For the purpose of your city under the circumstances I recommend the adoption of the Direct or Holly System Should you decide to adopt this recommendation, it would be well, before making a contract to advertise for machinery stating the quantity of water to be raised and the different elevations to be supplied and that the machinery should have a capacity to deliver the same under an increased pressure of not less than 50 pounds per square inch and at the same time supply the additional quantity required for fire protection

Details of the cost of all the work will be found in the appendix.

In making these estimates, I have taken the pipe at 3½ cents per pound in the Eastern cities and allowed one cent per pound for freight For work done one third has been added to the cost of similar work at the East

And on account of greater head of water to which probably half of your pipe will be subjected I have also added 20 per cent to its weight If the river is finally adopted as the source of supply and the present works are not purchased the definite location of pumping station should be carefully considered The location in this report opposite Mill street, was used as a point to which Stephens Springs could be brought It might probably be better to place new works to pump from the river, farther up the river

Samples of the water from Stephens Springs the Willamette River, and Balch and Caruthers' Creeks have been analyzed by Dr J H Bill and his report which is in the hands of your Secretary gives a very high rank to the water of the river and to that of Stephens Springs It would probably be judicious to have the river water submitted to another analysis later in the season

All which is respectfully submitted

WM. E MORRIS

Engineer, &c

PORTLAND, August 20, 1872

Since writing the above, I have received from the Risdon Iron and Locomotive Works of San Francisco, a proposition to supply wrought iron pipe, and also a statement of the conditions necessary to be observed in the use of asphaltum varnish, and the result of their experience in its use

They offer 30 inch wrought iron pipe suitable for the Stephens' Conduit at the following rates

30-inch, made of No 16 iron $3 60 per foot
No 12 iron 4 00
No 11 iron 4 25

They also write "Your question as to the durable qualities of asphaltum can be answered with some reservation. As far as our experience goes (about twelve years, it proves that if the pipe is well made well coated on clean iron with proper asphaltum and laid under ground, without being scraped the pipe will last twelve years How much longer our experience can't say but up to that time it is to all appearances as good as new

They also offer to lay and rivet the pipe if desired

Based upon the foregoing prices, the wrought iron pipe, if used for the Stephens' springs brick conduit, and for the cast iron pipes upon the two sides of the river would cost as follows, as compared with the brick conduit and cast iron pipe

Brick conduit 12,500 feet at $6 00	$76,500
30-inch cast iron pipe 1 300 feet at $16 00	20 800
		$96 300
As before reported
30-inch wrought iron pipe No 16 iron 12,500 feet at $4 50	$56 250
30 inch wrought iron pipe No 12 iron 1 500 feet at $5 60	150
		$63 400
Saving obtained by using wrought iron		$32,900

If, upon further inquiry and and examination of the pipe in use it shall be decided to use wrought iron pipe, as above stated, about $33,000 would be saved in original cost

Respectfully, &c ,

WM E MORRIS,

Engineer

Report

OF THE EXAMINATION OF FIVE SAMPLES OF WATER DESIGNED FOR THE SUPPLY OF THE CITY OF PORTLAND FROM NO "2" TO NO 6 INCLUSIVE MADE IN JUNE 1872 BY J H BILL, M D , SURGEON U S A FORT VANCOUVER, W T

(NOTE BY THE COMMITTEE —Sample No 1, examined by Dr Bill in September 1871 was from a large spring on the farm of C Bills in Washington county, but as it was decided by Mr Morris to be wholly impracticable as a source of supply, the analysis is omitted All the samples submitted to Dr Bill were designated by numbers only and he was left to make the analyses without any knowledge of the sources of any of them The localities are named in the publication of his report by the Committee)

Examination in Detail

SAMPLE NO "2 —KELLY'S SPRING

Slight sediment Water clear odorless and tasteless

One imperial gallon contains 8 18 grains solids

General Remarks

Comparing results it was found that the samples were contaminated in the following order with—

Lime		Organic Matter
Most	No 5	Most	No 5
2d	No 3	2d	No 4
3d	No 2	3d	No 6
4th	No 4	4th	No 2
Least	No 6	Least	No 3

Arranged according to total solids we have—

No 3	8 92 grs per gall
No 5	8 55 grs per gall
No 2	8 18 grs per gall
No 4	7 44 grs per gall
No 6	2 48 grs per gall

These are very small amounts and No 6 remarkably so It is about as pure as rain water

Nos 5 2 and 3 are the ordinary chloride of calcium waters of this region No 4 is remarkable as being the only bi carbonated water

In point of softness it may be remarked that all are unusually soft waters The water supplied to London England ranges from 15 to 20 Clark's scale that to New York from 9 to 10 The water of the Columbia river marks about 13° Clark's scale that of Cold Spring Water Company Vancouver 11

No 6 is the softest, No 4 next Nos 2 and 5 about equal

None of these waters will incrust boilers save No 1 and here to an inappreciable extent None will act on lead, even after a week's standing save No 5

In conclusion I may remark, that any of the samples would furnish an unexceptionably good water for supplying the city of Portland, whether introduced singly or mixed in reservoirs prior to introduction No 6 is the purest and perhaps the best Nos 3 and 2 come next, and recommend themselves on account of their small organic contamination No 4 comes next and No 5 last

These waters are all admirably adapted for manufacturing purposes —Nos 6 and 4 best No 5 next and Nos 3 and 2 next No 6 would be particularly well adapted for dyeing and in general chemical works

Of all the waters examined the case reduces itself to a choice between No 6 and Nos 2 and 3 There is hardly any choice between them determinable by chemical examination Whichever source will furnish most readily the most water ought to be selected J H BILL M D

Europeans Don't Believe It

The following extract is from an article by an editor It appears an intelligent man in Europe is as far as the same class at home from believing the statements of Greeley and his associates about this country being sub ly governed

It is the general impression in Europe that the administration of President Grant has been praiseworthy and ... considering its comparatively short duration a little over three years highly beneficial to the United States Since he came into office in 1869 three hundred millions of dollars of public debt have been paid, taxes have been reduced ... the expenses ... reforms in the civil service introduced, practical relations with foreign nations maintained and a most laudable example set toward doing away of wars by carrying into practical settlement international disputes by arbitration These are the most striking features of his administration And yet duly to estimate its merit one should call to mind the frequent predictions of the press of Europe, the least friendly to the Republic just before the close of the civil war that the debt of that country would be so immense as never to be paid and that its liberties would perish beneath the feet of a dictator The defeat of Grant will be a strong argument in Europe ... that little chance of support ... has in a country ... resources ...

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA JUNE 1872

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June 1872 again declares its faith appeals to its history and announces its position upon the questions before the country

1 During the eleven years of its ascendancy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time It has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity it criminally punished no man for political offenses and has warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It initiated a new policy toward the Indians; the Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted to completion the public lands have been freely given to actual settlers immigration has been protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers In the form of National currency it has provided for the National credit and sustained it under the most extraordinary burdens It has negotiated new bonds at lower rates of interest The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied Despite the annual large reductions from the rate of taxation the public debt has been reduced during U S Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100 000 000 per year A great financial crisis has been averted and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised and the honor and power of the Nation kept in a high position throughout the world This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men composed of those who chiefly have resisted every step in this beneficial progress

2 Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race creed color or previous condition of servitude

3 The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4 The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty

5 Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal is fatally demoralizing and we therefore favor a reform of the system by a law which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position without practically creating a lifetenure of office.

6 We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolists and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people

7 The annual revenue after paying current debts should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt and except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors be raised by duties on importations which should be adjusted to aid in securing remunerative wages to laborers and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country

8 We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged and who in the line of duty became disabled without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge

9 The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance ... a subject always a subject having at last through the efforts of the Republican party been abandoned and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Governments and we urge ... protection to voluntary emigration

10 The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way prepared for reductions in the rates of postage

11 Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor and the Republican party ... the duty of so shaping legislation as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital and for labor ... mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization

12 We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an imperative duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations ...

13 We ... repudiation ... national faith ...

14 The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America ... their ... admission to wider fields of usefulness is viewed with satisfaction ...

15 We heartily approve ... local self government ...

16 The Republican party propose to respect the rights reserved by the people to themselves ... the National Government ...

17 It is the duty of the General Government ... measures ... American commerce ...
